

My Interests

Callum MCKENZIE
Year 10

Date: 07/02/2025
Date Last Edited: 07/02/2025

Interests test results for Callum MCKENZIE

Realistic

Investigative

Artistic

Social

Enterprising

Conventional

The "Realistic" interest type

People who are "Realistic" are usually practical, competitive and confident people who like to problem solve using logic, motor coordination and skill. These people get things done. Typically, they are interested in scientific, structural or mechanical areas rather than cultural and visual ones. They are typically practical, action-oriented people who like to see a tangible result for their efforts on the job.

Examples of jobs/careers that suit "Realistic" interest types:

- Engineer (all types)
- Mechanic
- Landscaper
- Animal Attendant
- Baker/Pastrycook
- Farmer
- Environmental Scientist
- Machine Operator
- Construction Worker
- Pilot

Note: This list of jobs has just SOME examples of jobs that might suit you. There will be many others and this is designed just to get you thinking about some different possibilities

The "Investigative" interest type

People who are "Investigative" are usually observant, considerate people who enjoy experiments, organising information and working independently. They prefer not to work in loud environments with lots of people and would rather not lead, act or persuade others. Working in research, academic jobs or technology suits this interest type.

Examples of jobs/careers that suit "Investigative" interest types:

- Scientist
- Physicist
- University Lecturer/Professor
- Software Developer
- Data Scientist
- Researcher
- Statistician
- Auditor
- Business Analyst

Note: This list of jobs has just SOME examples of jobs that might suit you. There will be many others and this is designed just to get you thinking about some different possibilities

The "Artistic" interest type

People who are "Artistic" are often open-minded, creative, inventive and have great imaginations. They are storytellers, interested in culture, and are often empathetic and kind to others. They can be sensitive and emotional and don't work well with rules and structure. "Artistic" people enjoy developing concepts and ideas in fields involving art, design and self-expression.

Examples of jobs/careers that suit "Artistic" interest types:

- Musician
- Interior Designer
- Landscape Architect
- Graphic Designer
- Animator
- Actor
- Videographer
- Journalist
- Photographer
- Art Director

Note: This list of jobs has just SOME examples of jobs that might suit you. There will be many others and this is designed just to get you thinking about some different possibilities

The "Social" interest type

People who are "Social" enjoy working with people and find satisfaction in helping others. They like to work in teams and cooperative environments, where there is a common goal. They are less interested in complex analytical or physical tasks and prefer teaching, mentoring and building close relationships.

Examples of jobs/careers that suit "Social" interest types:

- Nurse
- Teacher
- Psychologist
- Coach
- Chiropractor
- Human Resources Manager
- Radiation Therapist
- Dental Hygienist
- Physiotherapist
- Social Worker

Note: This list of jobs has just SOME examples of jobs that might suit you. There will be many others and this is designed just to get you thinking about some different possibilities

The "Enterprising" interest type

People who are "Enterprising" enjoy communication and taking initiative. They are assertive, charismatic and good at motivating others. They enjoy starting businesses, taking risks and decision making. They love to take the lead and persuade others. They can be entrepreneurial and often value power, money and status.

Examples of jobs/careers that suit "Enterprising" interest types:

- Real Estate Agent
- Entrepreneur
- Social Media Manager
- Human Resources Manager
- Public Relations Manager
- Salesperson
- Marketing Manager
- Financial Advisor
- Lawyer
- Construction Manager

Note: This list of jobs has just SOME examples of jobs that might suit you. There will be many others and this is designed just to get you thinking about some different possibilities

The "Conventional" interest type

People who are "Conventional" feel safe with rules and regulation. They like to be in control and work best when there is a consistent routine. They can feel uncomfortable managing interpersonal relationships, especially when discussing feelings and emotions. They like to work with facts and data, and they value reputation highly.

Examples of jobs/careers that suit "Conventional" interest types:

- Accountant
- Database Administrator
- Librarian
- Occupational Health & Safety Officer
- Administration Assistant
- Web Developer
- Actuary
- Bank Worker
- Lawyer
- IT Network Architect/Engineer

Note: This list of jobs has just SOME examples of jobs that might suit you. There will be many others and this is designed just to get you thinking about some different possibilities